

RESERVES WILL USE U. S. RANGE

Reserve officers of the army in El Paso are now permitted to use the range for target practice, according to a recent order of the war department. The order affecting reserve officers on the range states that they will be assigned upon their own application to an organization for target practice, and that they shall be entitled to the same allowance of small arm ammunition as are officers of the regular army of the same arm of the service.

The order further states that reserve officers on inactive duty may be assigned by department commanders to an organization of the regular army for target practice at their own request, but without pay. Instructions have been received by the commander of this district from the secretary of war.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is unperfumed coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely harmless. It is very cheap, and costs anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily. The hair grows quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.

France Peevish At Wilson Inability To Make Promises Good To Allies, Says El Pasoan Back From Abroad

By GEORGE W. LYNN
America's failure to ratify the peace treaty and president Wilson's inability to make good his promises to the allies, has frankly annoyed the French people, according to an El Pasoan, L. W. Hoffecker, who has just returned from a three months' trip to Europe. Belgium, Germany and Switzerland. Mr. Hoffecker is head of a plate glass firm here at El Paso, and he made the trip abroad in an effort to obtain an adequate supply of glass, which is difficult to obtain at this time.

French Have Given Up
The French, he says, have apparently given up. The people feel that their winning the war have not received their just dues. In the northern sections of the republic, the peasants are waiting for the American tourists, from whom they expect to reap great riches.

They believe failure of the United States to ratify the pact has caused a serious slump in their exchange.

Belgium is the most optimistic of any of the countries he visited, Mr. Hoffecker says. There he found the people realize their salvation depends entirely upon themselves; industries are reopening as fast as materials and coal, which is extremely scarce, can be obtained. The people, he says, are growing impatient and sorrowful in work, and are eager to forge to the front in industry.

Praying Among Selves
In England he people are fasting among themselves, he declares. London papers are reporting their statements for not taking prompt steps to quell unrest and put the country back on a peace time basis. England charges France and Belgium ran away and left them to fight the war, and France and Belgium charge England with the same thing.

Officers' Names Sifted
When he arrived in Frankfurt he went to a hotel with several traveling men, most of whom were Germans, and when he asked for a room was given no attention. He says he turned in an American army officer who was standing in the lobby and asked his help. The officer told the German clerk to give him a room, and to give it to him at the regular rate—11 marks. The clerk refused to do so.

There are about 1,500 American soldiers still stationed about the Rhine, Mr. Hoffecker says. When asked if they were anxious to return to the United States, he said just the opposite was true.

Americans Want to Stay
The American private draws 1200 marks a month in German money, which in Germany at the present rate of exchange equals about $300 a month to the United States. No enlisted men or officers are not anxious to return. They say they are enjoying their present life along the Rhine.

In Switzerland, Mr. Hoffecker says he found conditions good and an optimism equaling that of Belgium. "Work and a firm conviction of reconstruction is the present economic necessity for Europe's good," he said.

ENGLAND SENDS TROOPS TO CORK

DOCTORS FIND REMEDY FOR COLDS AND FLU

Calotabs, the New Nauseless Calomel Tablets, Cut Short Colds and May Prevent Flu By Keeping Liver Active.

Physicians have learned from experience, during the epidemic of influenza, that one of the most important factors in the prevention of flu and pneumonia is to keep the liver active so that the digestive organs may be in perfect working order and the system thereby enabled to throw off colds, check sore throats and resist serious complications. For this purpose they have found that the new, nauseless calomel tablets called Calotabs, are the most effective even than the old style calomel, which was formerly the universal favorite, as Calotabs do not weaken the patient, nor interfere with the appetite and digestion.

At the first signs of a cold or sore throat, doctors recommend one Calotab at bed time with a swallow of water, then at 8 A. M. with no more, nor the slightest interference with your diet, pleasure, or work. Next morning you wake up feeling free, your liver is active, and your system is keen for a good breakfast.

For your protection Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages at price thirty-five cents. All druggists recommend and guarantee Calotabs. Your money back if you are not delighted with them.—Adv.
